Textile Innovation, second edition

Textile consultant Ros Hibbert, MPhil RCA, has recently published this second edition of her book featuring some of the latest and most influential developments in fashion and interior textiles.

A fascinating insight for anyone interested in the textiles of tomorrow, this book explores technological advancements using examples such as the Light Sleeper, a phosphorescent duvet designed to treat sufferers of SAD, the solar-powered jacket and scented textiles for fashion. Communication, interaction, health, new and unusual fibres and signalling textiles are just a few of the other areas covered in this edition. Visit the Materials directory for a full summary of Textiles Innovation.

For more information on how to purchase a copy of Textile Innovation visit <http://www.textileinnovation.com/> or email info@textileinnovation.com

Ros Hibbert is author of the second edition of:
